

Welcome to the SHAPE Riverside County data portal

Launched in October 2015, the SHAPE (Strategic Health Alliance Pursuing Equity) Riverside County data portal collects and shares data relating to the Community Health Priorities and is the source for resources and best practices across the partner network. It is a community resource of over 170 indicators related to health and social well-being. This website will continue to grow to meet the needs of all those pursuing a healthier Riverside County.

SHAPE coordinates the resources of public health system partners to improve health for all communities in Riverside County. This initiative is coordinated by the Riverside County Health Coalition and its leadership team.

“The website can be helpful to a wide variety of users, from academics trying to gather health data for reports, to community health partners who need quick access to information about health trends, to everyday residents who are just interested in unique facts,” said Dr. Cameron Kaiser, Riverside County public health officer.
